

Egenberger guilty of second degree murder

By ROBERT KROLL
OAKLAND — Joseph O. Egenberger was found guilty Friday of second-degree murder in the 1963 slaying of Judy Williamson of Albany, finally putting to rest a 14-year mystery murder.

The jury of five men and seven women, which deliberated for three days, agreed on the murder verdict at 5:15 p.m., but were deadlocked at 10-2 over the degree of the crime.

Under law, Alameda County Judge Hugh S. Koford, who presided over the eight-day trial, set the verdict at murder of the second degree, which carries a penalty of five years to life in the state penitentiary.

Egenberger, 33, son of a former Albany mayor, took the verdict with a sense of relief and through his lawyer Lincoln Mintz asked that he be placed in the sheriff's custody immediately without bail pending sentencing.

Judge Koford obliged

him, saying that was his intention in any case, and set May 24 at 9 a.m. for a report from the county probation department and sentencing.

Added prison time, up to five years, could be imposed on Egenberger because the jury found he used a weapon, a stabbing instrument, in the gruesome slaying of the University of California sophomore in Berkeley on Oct. 29, 1963.

Several members of the jury were extremely angered over the imposition of the lesser degree and expressed their anger outside the courtroom.

Juror Diane G. Law of Oakland said the jury was deadlocked with two jurors, Gene K. Owyong and Charlotte F. McManus, holding out since Thursday morning for second-degree murder, that is, malicious intent to kill a person but without premeditation.

"We didn't think that 69 wounds (in the victim) demonstrated a rash decision," said Mrs. Law. "I don't understand their (Owyong and McManus) reasoning. I think we wasted four weeks. We just learned that he agreed to plead guilty to second-degree murder. The whole experience was terrible."

Another juror, Mavis J. Williams, was equally angry outside of court, and was particularly upset about evidence presented indicating Egenberger had, as recently as last August 30, in Chicago, boasted of the killing and later referred to it as "a sensational crime."

"I felt that when he was in Chicago he wanted another sensation. I don't think he should be walking the streets after 14 years," said Mrs. Williams.

Prosecutor Karl Payne was the only person in the courtroom who looked visibly disappointed by the verdict.

"I am disappointed with it, along with the ten jurors who voted for first degree murder," said Payne, 31, a specialist in trying murder cases in Alameda County.

"I am also disappointed for the Williamsons, whose lives were totally changed by the murder of their only daughter. They were outgoing, fun-loving people before Oct. 29, 1963. Now they are just the opposite. Nothing is ever going to bring their daughter back; they didn't want blood but they would have liked him (Egenberger) sent to prison for life."

Mintz, on the other hand, said the verdict of second-degree murder represented a "victory" of sorts since the penalty for first degree-murder carries a minimum seven-year term compared to the expected four years eight months Egenberger will have to serve.

Egenberger himself told the I-G he was pleased to get the trial over with, and seemed in an almost light-hearted, expectant mood after the jury returned the verdict.

He is being held in the county courthouse jail two floors above the courtroom where the trial was held. While on trial he was free on $15,000 bond and lived with David Dimmick in a studio apartment on Action Street in Berkeley.

Egenberger was the prime suspect in the crime since Marguerite Crouse, now of Sacramento, came to UC police and said she saw a man in a darkened corner of an underground UC parking structure leaning over the trunk of a green and white four-door sedan with a large, bulky object in his arms. However, it turns out, according to Egenberger with an interview with the I-G, that Mrs. Crouse must have been wrong about that story since Egenberger had long since left that garage with Miss Williamson's corpse in his trunk when Mrs. Crouse said she arrived.

But the most damaging testimony at the trial came from witnesses who spoke with Egenberger himself

Four downzoning hearings slated

ALBANY — A series of four public hearings have been scheduled by the Albany City Council to consider the proposed downzoning of many local residential areas.

The council Monday night adopted the schedule beginning with a hearing at 8 o'clock tonight at the city hall, following several months of work by the city staff and the planning and zoning commission to revise the city's zoning ordinance, the first major alterations in 17 years.

The downzoning, which is designed to bring the zoning ordinance into conformance with the general plan, would enlarge to minimum lot size requirements to reduce to potential number of residential units in the city.

City officials, however, claim the proposed downzoning falls short of the general plan requirements and may require a subsequent revision of the general plan itself.

The planning and zoning commission has already held a series of public hearings on the proposals. They were sparsely attended.

In addition to this evening, hearings are set for May 17, May 24 and May 31, with possible council adoption of the revisions May 31. All the hearings are on Wednesday nights.

The single-family zoning revisions would raise the 1,650 square foot minimum per dwelling unit to 1,875 square feet.

This would continue to allow two dwelling units on a standard lot of 3,750 square feet but would eliminate construction of three dwellings on a 5,000 square-foot lot.

The more strict general plan would have allowed only one dwelling unit per lot, whatever its size, with the minimum lot size continuing at 3,750 square feet.

City gets $25,000 in sales tax

ALBANY — The City of Albany received $25,000 this week in the April distribution of sales and use tax funds, and Alameda County was allotted $437,500 in sales taxes plus $437,500 from the one-quarter percent county local transportation fund for the 30-day period.

Statewide, more than $66 million was released to California cities and counties, according to William M. Bennett of the State Board of Equalization, who said the distribution represented the second advance payment for the first quarter of 1978.

"The bulk of these funds comes from the Bradley-Burns one percent sales and use tax to the cities and counties, with $43.6 million going to the cities and $7.1 million to the counties for a combined total exceeding $50 million."

"Almost $12.7 million from the one-quarter percent local sales and use tax will be paid to the counties for the local transportation fund."

"The San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District (BART) received $2 million and the Santa Clara County Transit District (SCT) received $1.15 million from the additional one-half percent sales tax paid in their respective counties."

The Board of Equalization, Bennett concluded, "administers the six percent sales and use tax (6 1/2 percent in BART and SCT counties), 4.75 percent of which goes to the state and 1.25 percent to the cities and counties."

Sight clinic in Albany Saturday

ALBANY — The Sight Screening Clinic sponsored by the Lions Club of Alameda Contra Costa Counties will be at the Safeway Parking Lot on Solano Ave., on Saturday.

Sponsored by the Albany Lions Club, this Screening Unit is designed to check both visual function and eye health.

"If the Screening Doctor finds that someone needs further diagnostic testing, that person will be referred to visit a doctor of the individual's choice," William Johnson, project chairman said.

"This is another Community Service Program offered by the Albany Lions Club at no cost to the general public."

Elliott Jones, President, "invites everyone to take advantage of this opportunity to get their eyes screened."

The unit will be operated from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

RECREATING CARLOTTA GRISI ROLE — Heather Elrick (center) of Albany, will be featured in "Paquita," one of numbers being staged in East Bay

East Bay Ballet Theatre To present Spring Concert

By DOROTHY LEMBERGER
ALBANY — On May 5 and 6 four young East Bay ballet dancers will have the opportunity to put themselves in the ballet shoes of four of the greatest dancers of the 19th century. They will dance in "Le Pas de Quatre," one of four ballets being presented at the East Bay Ballet Theatre's annual spring concert at the Albany High School Little Theatre.

First performed in London in July, 1845, for Queen Victoria, "Le Pas de Quatre" was choreographed for the greatest dancers of the day, Lucile Grahn, Carlotta Grisi, Marie Taglioni, and Fanny Cerito. This ballet was re-choreographed by Anton Dolin for the American Ballet Theatre and then taught to Grace Doty, East Bay Ballet Theatre's artistic director.

The ballet has no story, but consists of a number of variations, each of which was choreographed to show the dancer off to her best advantage. When the curtain rises the dancers are seen in a pose that duplicates the most famous of Chalon's lithographs.

A charming period piece, the air of competition among the ballerinas always makes it doubly exciting. Wendy Larick, Paula Goodman, Julie McClymonds of Berkeley and Luana Nietzsche of El Cerrito, will dance these four demanding roles.

Also on the program will be a ballet choreographed expressly for East Bay Ballet Theatre by Sue Loyd, titled, "Friends." Ms. Loyd was a principal dancer with both the San Francisco Ballet and the City Center Joffrey Ballet and was assistant to Robert Joffrey. She currently teaches ballet in San Francisco. Appearing in "Friends" will be Paula Goodman, Tassia Hooks, Wendy Larick, Julie McClymonds, Katie Robben, all of Berkeley; and Karen Portner, Kensington. Valerie Lewis, Richmond, will alternate with Miss Robben.

The program will also include the show-stopping "Peasant Pas de Deux" from "Giselle" danced by Luana Nietzsche, El Cerrito, and Curt Chamberlain, Berkeley.

The fourth offering is "Paquita," first produced at the Paris Opera in 1846 as a three act ballet with Carlotta Grisi in the title role. It was brought from Russia by Alexandra Danilova, who appeared in "The Turning Point." While Madame Danilova was ballerina with the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, she choreographed "Paquita." Alan Howard, then principal dancer with the Ballet Russe and later founder of Pacific Ballet, staged this ballet for Grace Doty, EBBT's artistic director, who at that time was prima ballerina at Pacific Ballet. The present production which is staged by Miss Doty after Howard is only the third act of the original

Based on Hill deal damages

By NORMAN COLBY
ALBANY — Allegations of financial disaster and possible bankruptcy accompany legal claims for $3.6 million filed against the City of Albany by former Mayor Hubert (Red) Call and his wife Ruth.

The city council Monday night referred the claims to City Attorney Robert Zweben.

Call and his wife each are seeking $1.8 million, alleging that the city is at fault in the series of events which led to Call's sale of about one acre on Albany Hill to the Gateview developer for $258,000, with the land later deeded to the city.

A superior court recently ruled that Call was guilty of a conflict of interest.

City council blasts 'postal deterioration'

ALBANY — The city council is firing off letters to U.S. senators and congressmen complaining about reported deterioration of mail service and resulting "grave hardship."

The council decision was sparked by Realtor Jerome Blank, who complained that his last business mail pickup of the day has been scheduled earlier and his home delivery is arriving later.

Blank spoke at a council meeting Monday night, citing cases where letters were seven days en route from Berkeley to Albany, warning that the "deterioration of mail service is creating great hardship."

Councilwoman Joyce Jackson said: "This is another in a series of atrocities (relating to the mails)."

Mayor Lewis Howell, who proposed sending letters to national legislators to protest late mail delivery, quipped, "Once, I offered our mail carrier a flashlight."

Hearing on Seniors' problems

ALBANY — Albany Senior Citizens who desire to express their problems and concerns, will be given the opportunity to do so at a meeting of the Alameda County Advisory Committee on Aging. The session will be held from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on May 8 in the Emeryville Senior Center at 4321 Salem St.

"The Advisory Commission has a voice in the distribution of federal funds via Title III of the Older Americans Act," Adele Ostomel of the County Social Services Agency, said today. "In the past such monies have been used for transportation, health, crime prevention and information and referral programs and activities."

For additional information concerning the commission and its activities, readers may contact Ms. Ostomel at 874-7233.

Albany's sirens will burst into their ear-splitting, one-note arias at exactly 11 a.m. Friday, as the county's warning systems howl through their annual tests.

Auditioning with Albany will be every alarm-unit in Alameda. The group will harmonize in the approved test mode — hold one note for a minute, remain silent for a blessed 60 seconds, and do a rise and fall routine for the third minute.

Police officers and fire fighters fervently hope the sired audience will not swamp their switchboards with calls. There will be nothing to be alarmed about. Particularly if you're tone deaf.

On a more subdued note, the Albany Community Theatre made its debut Friday evening with the Moss Hart comedy, "Light Up the Sky," ran through a second performance Saturday evening and a matinee Sunday, and now, the cast hopes, is well on its way to becoming a local institution.

The Hart farce will be staged again next weekend — curtain times on Friday and Saturday are 8:30 p.m., and the matinee will play at 2 p.m.

The Hart farce will be staged again next weekend — curtain times on Friday and Saturday are 8:30 p.m., and the matinee will play at 2 p.m. All performances are being given in Albany High's Little Theatre at 603 Key Route Blvd. Those desiring reserved seats may call 526-6129. Tickets also may be purchased at the box-office which opens 30 minutes before the curtain goes up.

Apparently gratified by the initial reception, but realizing that this was just for openers, the novice crew now is laying the scene for the second play. Currently, Payl Shephard, who will direct the second presentation, is looking for three women and five men to play in "Bus Stop". Those interested in auditioning are urged to contact Willi Bokenkamp at 526-6129 for details.

Realtor Hal Hoffman is puzzling over the enigma of a thief so devout that his desire for a holy picture overcame his religious scruples. Apparently the frustrated felon took the picture from a niche on the wall during an open-house Hall was staging at a residence on Talbot Ave.

"The painting has virtually no monetary value," Hall shrugged. "But its owner's sentimental attachment can't be gauged in dollars and cents. I'm appealing to whomever took it to leave the picture at the Albany Library with a note marked 'In care of H. Hoffman'. I'll see that the keepsake is returned to her."

The reason for Little League being several minutes late in entering the 1978 season was explained this morning by Fern Luoma.

All officials had assembled on Diamond One at University Park to launch play at exactly 11:15 a.m. Saturday. Larry Eaton, League president stepped up to the mike and called out the traditional "Play Ball", but the group of officials manning the diamond merely struck a tableau. Ex-League President Bill Lewis stood disconsolately on the pitcher's mound, Michelle Brown (Maid of Albany) fidgeted with the bat, and City Treasurer Ellen Zapata, squatted behind home plate, pointing her catcher's mitt at a cloudless sky. It looked like no contest — apparently no one had a bat and ball.

A thoughtful league manager who remembered that he had a bat and ball in his car saved the season.

Albanyite Janet Kay and Kensington resident Nora Jackson are exhibiting their paintings at Brookside Hospital until May 20. The two-women show is sponsored by the Hospital Service League. Commissions earned by the League go to the patient treatment program.

BART's directors approve second tier fare structure

OAKLAND — A special second tier fare structure was approved recently by the BART Board of Directors to be programmed into the system's automatic fare equipment for use at some future time. The second fare structure, could be used for special promotional events, holidays and general fare testing, calls for a 75 cent maximum for the longest one-way trip and a 20 percent discount for all trips under the 75 cent maximum. For example, if someone were to take a trip normally costing 50 cents, it would only cost 40 cents with the discount.

BART's current basic fare structure ranges from a 30 cent minimum to $1.45 maximum for the longest one-way trip. Trips taken within the downtown Oakland and San Francisco areas are only 25 cents. The new second fare structure will now be programmed into the automatic fare equipment but may not actually be used without specific approval from the Board of Directors. General Manager Frank C. Herringer said this additional capability will give BART increased flexibility in offering special promotional fares.

May 3 is Sun Day.

Wednesday, May 3rd will be observed around the world as "Sun Day" and PG&E is glad to be taking part.

As fuel resources have become scarce, we've been exploring ways Californians can use the sun's energy. Right now PG&E is involved in over 85 solar projects like those listed here. We're testing solar heating systems in homes, offices, greenhouses and on farms. And many other projects are planned. We want to help you decide how solar energy may fit into your life.

Solar energy is already heating water, swimming pools and buildings and shows great promise for helping conserve energy. Although practical ways of using the sun to generate electricity are still many years away, we're working on that too. PG&E, in cooperation with others, plans to build a small scale experimental sunlight-to-electricity plant that will produce power by the early 1980's. The estimated construction cost of $20,000 per kilowatt is about 30 times the cost of building a new hydroelectric plant. But by the end of the century, commercially-proven solar plants could well be providing a portion of your electricity.

Soroptimist International, at a recent election session, named officers who will direct the Albany club's activities for the year 1978.

The new officials are: Yvonne Walkup, president; Julia White, vice-president; Irene MacWilliams, second vice-president; Dorothy Sooter, recording secretary; Jewel Okawachi, corresponding secretary; Doris Holland, treasurer; Elaine Olson, delegate; and Ellen Zapata, alternate delegate.

Named to the board of directors are: Stephanie Fallcreek, Bertha Jones, Geraldine Hollick and Sally Nelson.

ALBANY LIONS CLUB

Albany Lions will elect new officers for the year 1978-79 at the club's regular session Thursday evening.

Nominated to date are: president, Joe St. Clair; first vice-president, Jack Dempster; second vice-president, Bob Flynn; secretary, Allan Vincent; Don Chelmedos and Ken Berner; treasurer, Fred Sierra; tailwister, Dean Cullup and J. Henry Kruse, Jr.; lion tamer, Wayne Keith; board of directors, two-year term, Art Longpre, and Ken McDonald; one-year term, Elliot Jones.

Additional nominations may be made from the floor at tomorrow evening's session, according to Kruse.

ALBANY ROTARY CLUB

Albany Rotarians conducted a joint session with the El Cerrito Club; last week at Spencers, and at last report (according to Bob Carlson) were still awaiting the results of the March attendance contest in the local district.

Just to indicate what is being done elsewhere, Carlson announced that as of April 1 there were 17,562 Rotary clubs in 152 countries, with a total membership of 818,000. Only a small fraction of that number attended the local session.

Park District purchases Claremont Canyon parcel

OAKLAND — The East Bay Regional Park District gained a toe-hold on another urban parkland with the purchase of a 27.5-acre farm in Claremont Canyon, "the last relatively undeveloped canyon in Berkeley hills."

The seven-member Board of Directors unanimously authorized payment of $300,000 to Peter and Catharine Marron for their farm and grazing lands in the historic canyon, situated in the City of Oakland above the Claremont Hotel.

At the same time, the board followed the recommendation of EBRPD Land Acquisition Chief Hulet C. Hornbeck and accepted an acquisition evaluation on an additional 75-acre portion within the canyon known as "the University Uplands 2 subdivision," reaching up the steep slopes towards Grizzly Peak Boulevard and EBRPD's Tilden Regional Park.

Hornbeck told the board that the 27.5-acre purchase would be held in land bank until resolution of "a tremendously complex situation" involving the state, the cities of Oakland and Berkeley, various neighborhood groups in the area and the primary hiking and environmental organizations in the Bay Area.

Considered of paramount interest in the possible development of a "Claremont Canyon Regional Preserve" in the scenic area are the 79-acre lands of the former California School for the Deaf and Blind, situated downhill from the Marron property, north of Claremont Avenue and the hotel and adjacent to Oakland's Garber Park.

This land has been operated by the Park District on a no-cost lease as "Berkeley Open Space." Berkeley Assemblyman Thomas Bates is currently seeking legislation in Sacramento that would either transfer the former state school lands to the district or provide a 50-year no-cost lease.

Hornbeck told the board that "there has been some discussion in Sacramento that this property should be part of Gov. Brown's urban rehabilitation program and that a transfer of this property for park purposes would fit within such a program."

The Land Acquisition Chief said that the so-called University Uplands, reaching to University of California-owned lands and Grizzly Peak Boulevard, contains 192 parcels in 134 separate ownerships.

Hornbeck asserted that "it is anticipated that the costs of the acquisition of the private properties would preclude the payment for the publicly owned land."

Beyond its value as open space and an historic corridor over the Pacific Coastal Range into the inland valleys, the undeveloped canyon offers sweeping views of the entire Bay Area from the ridge top.

When the EBRPD Master Plan was created in 1972-73, largely by citizen groups in the two EBRPD counties, the site was designated as a potential Regional Preserve and assigned a "medium" rating for acquisition priority.

The new acquisition evaluation on the Marron property accepted by the board recently points out in terms of development costs, that "the recreational development potential is very low and that development dependent on other acquisitions."

Among those urging the Park District board to acquire the Claremont Canyon lands was Shirley Dean of the Berkeley City Council who previously wrote directors that the canyon "is clearly one of those rare opportunities for the preservation of open space 'not only for the City of Berkeley but for the entire region.'"

Albany Bowl

Full House takes 905 Major League crown

By PHIL ALSTON
ALBANY — Al Ochoa's strike, spare in the tenth frame of the third game provided the margin by which Full House won the championship of the 905 Major League at Albany Bowl over Solano Club in a rollof match that was much closer than the ultimate 16-9 margin would indicate.

The issue hung on the four points awarded for total team pinnage. Ochoa's finish under pressure gave him a 248 game but, more importantly, run the Full House total to 2925 against Solano Club's 2924.

Had Ochoa failed to mark in his final frame the vital four points would have gone to Solano Club and with it a 13-12 victory.

Jack Jordan led the winners with 655 series. Ochoa had 625 and Paco Vasquez 615. For Solano Bob Mann hit 624. Mark Valente 611.

For the rest of the league it was sweeper night, and Ray Felix pulled down top money with 233-211-257 for 691 plus 48 handicap and 739 aggregate. Steve Brewer, 698 plus 33 for 731 was second.

Wigatormium edged Friends for Fun 12-10 in a rollof for second place in the Majorettes League. The winners were paced by Shirley Truitt's 538 and Tally Sewell's 527. Anita Camell shot 572 for the Friends.

Connie Hill, 689 total, won the sweeper with Camell second at 657. Millie Taylor and Margaret Short, 636, tied for third.

Dei Lee's 248-251 start gave him a 683 total in Nisei Scratch, which also found Tom Kaya at 627, Gish Endo 619. George Gee erupted for 268 in this third game for 604 total.

Jack Jordan posted 638 and Ralph Butler 618 to pace the 870 Commercial. Cameron Yee's 614 topped Oakland Chinese, and Gene Peters led NBA Mixed with 613.

Maggie Harris belied her 152 average by closing out her stint in the Wednesday AMERS loop with 243 game for 614 series. Her second game was 211.

In other sweeper action Howard Dupuis took honors in the Friday Invitational with 694. John Martin the Woodstackers at 670, and Fred Montgomery the Tri City with 711.

Roy Drake, 142 average, shot 563 to win the Albany Lions Club's Best Your Average tournament with a mark of 137 pins over. Eddie Taumoepeau, 120 over, was second, Sally Glenewickel, 119, third. High game trophies went to Larry Brewer, 246, and Sue Reece, 220.

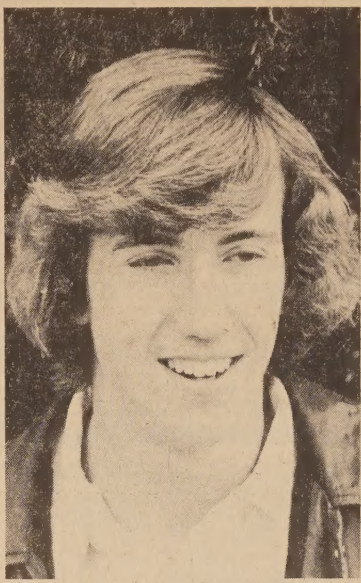

Albany Bowl is offering its tournament bowlers a bargain by permitting them to enter both the Jackpot Doubles and the East Bay Summer Doubles for the same lineage fee.

Fred Montgomery and Jim Campbell took advantage by taking the lead in both events. Campbell, 160 average, forced a 279 game and 681 series.

Many of the East Bay's top keggers are expected to compete in Albany's East Bay Eliminations tournament this summer. With the field limited to 48, locals Steve Brewer, Larry MacCaughy, Randy Felix and Dave Rubin have already signed up, as have Glenn White and Al Ahm from Alameda, Rod Sparks, past president of PCCB, and Alan Tucker.

First qualifying squad is scheduled to start play May 4.

Athlete of the Week

Record performances in two recent track meets has earned Albany High's Scott Bryan the title "Athlete of the Week."

In the Encinal competition Scott placed first in the 100 meter run, third in the 200 meters, and first in the long jump. Competing against Pacific he finished first in the 100 meter and 200 meter events, and took another first in the long jump.

With his second year of varsity competition drawing to a close Scott, who is maintaining a better than average scholastic record, is making preliminary plans to attend college. And in the more immediate future, he "probably will take a job in Venezuela this summer."

State traffic deaths show sharp increase

SACRAMENTO — California experienced 1090 traffic deaths during the first three months this year, compared to 986 last year and 905 in 1976, Highway Patrol Commissioner Glen Craig said.

Craig said the 10.55 percent increase this year over 1977 is a "reflection of the 8 1/2 percent rise in vehicle mileage." He said average speeds "also are slightly higher, probably accounting for part of the increase in deaths."

The worst year for traffic fatalities in California was 1969 when 5080 deaths were recorded. If the upward trend of the first quarter continues throughout 1978, this year's total would top 5400.

Gilbert powers Albany; Ficklin steals six

Albany's Angelo Gilbert and El Cerrito's Winston Ficklin discovered that six is a lucky number, as Gilbert drove in six runs and Ficklin stole six bases to lead their clubs to victory Friday.

Albany, paced by Gilbert's timely hitting, belted Alameda pitching for nine runs in the middle three innings to coast to a 10-4 win. El Cerrito scored seven times in the sixth inning to blast De Anza, 15-6.

Salesian did much the same as El Cerrito, scoring six runs in the fifth to rip Bishop O'Dowd, 8-3. Pinole, the only other local winner, edged Harry Ellis, 5-4.

St. Mary's lost another heartbreaker at St. Patrick's, despite being no-hit for six and two thirds innings, managed to tip the Panthers, 2-1, in 10 innings.

Gilbert had the winning hit for Albany in the third inning — a grand slam. He stroked his four bagger after walks to Ed Judge, Jerold Wiley and Michael Johnson.

Gilbert added some insurance in the fourth, swatting a two-run single. He also picked up a save, pitching two and one-third scoreless innings.

El Cerrito scored its winning run in the fourth inning, but turned it into a laughing in the big sixth. Ron Harper walked and Ted Perkins doubled. They scored when Ken Harris doubled.

Ricky Hughes, Fred Williams, Terry Mitchell, Rob Woods and Ron Harper all singled to finish up the scoring.

The Gauchos stole 14 bases in all. Perkins, Mitchell and Lem Sneed all had two thefts to support Ficklin's performance.

Salesian's big inning was the result of O'Dowd mistakes rather than Chieftain bats. The Dragons finished the game with seven errors.

Mike Ourl was the Chieftains' star on offense and defense. He went 3 for 4 at the plate and drove in a run with single in the fifth. He also threw out two base runners from behind the plate.

Pinole never led until it scored the winning run in the sixth inning. With two out, Todd Lee walked, he then stole second and scored on a single by Tim Johnson.

The Spartans had been down 4-0 going into the bottom of the fourth, but managed to tie it up on a fielder's choice, a walk, three singles and a two-run double by Jack Lehman.

Albany's John Adams pitched about as well as he could, no-hitting St. Patrick's until he surrendered a single in the bottom of the seventh. That hit, coupled with an error, sent the game into extra innings.

The Bruins finally won it in the 10th on a walk, a sacrifice and two singles.

Albany kindergarten registrations May 8

ALBANY — The Albany Unified School District will register children for admission to Kindergarten in the fall of 1978 on May 8 from 1 to 3 p.m. Children may be registered at either Vista, Cornell, or Marin Schools.

All University Village children should be registered at Cornell School, "although this does not imply that children will be assigned next year to that school," a school spokesman said.

"Parents should bring the child's birth certificate and be prepared to fill out health forms concerning vaccinations, immunizations, and childhood diseases. Verification of the dates of immunizations for polio, measles (rubeola) and D.P.T. for each kindergarten child is required. No child can unconditionally enter kindergarten next Fall unless he has had these immunizations. School nurses will be present at registration to assist parents and check medical information.

"Children are eligible for public school kindergarten if the child will be five years of age on or before December 2, 1978. The District cannot accept registration for children who are younger than that age even though the child may have had several years of preschool experience. Parents who may wish to consult a school counselor about their pre-kindergarten child may make an appointment at the registration desk.

"An accurate Spring registration is important to the school district for planning next year's kindergarten classes. If registration on the 8th is not possible, the child may be registered during school hours at any elementary school as soon as possible after May 8."

City offers variety of creative classes

ALBANY — A variety of creative classes for children and teenagers were announced today by the Albany Park and Recreation Department.

Currently in session is a dance class instructed by Antoinette Marcus that meets each Wednesday from 3:15 to 4:15 p.m. at the Albany Community Center. Instruction includes improvised dance movements from various cultures. There is no fee for the course.

A second no-fee course, titled "space Meditations," meets on Thursday afternoons from three to four in Room 110 of the Albany High School. The course considers natural meditation and relaxation techniques and guided fantasy.

Also available at no cost is a choir class meeting on Fridays 3:30 p.m. to 4:45 in the Albany Middle School Band Room, and a martial arts warm-up class conducted Fridays from 5 to 6 p.m. in the Band Room.

Children from six to nine-years old may enroll in a new continue art and drawing class beginning May 25 and extending through July 13. The group meets from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. on Thursdays in the Memorial Park Clubhouse.

A second art class for the same age group, titled "Explorations in Art," serves as an introduction to a variety of art materials. This eight-week class, scheduled on Mondays from 3:15 to 5:15 p.m. in the Memorial Park Clubhouse, holds its first session May 1.

A variety of teen classes scheduled during the Spring term include violin and choir and solo songs from Africa and Asia.

The ARD Club will conduct vacation programs daily, Monday through Friday, that provide a wide range of activities, including arts and crafts, cooking, indoor and outdoor games, sports and gymnastics, library programs and inner school games.

Readers desiring additional information may contact the Albany Park and Recreation Department at 1000 San Pablo Ave., or telephone 644-8514.

Times Mailbag — Letters from our readers

Editor:

Dear Sir:

To you the residents of Albany who could have voted in the April 11 election, but did not, I ask what is your hang-up? In this day and age it makes me sick to know that so many hundreds of Albany people who could vote, won't!

The voter turn-out for the April 11 city election was poor, pathetic, and disgraceful. Only 44% of the registered voters went to the polls. Is Albany a sham? What consolation is it to have an image of being "a lovely little town on San Francisco Bay" and fail democracy, miserably, at the polls?

City Clerk Pat Dempster was so disappointed in the city's turnout that she said, "If you were living in a country where you weren't allowed to vote, you would be complaining because you couldn't vote."

Why is there so much voter apathy in Albany? In my opinion the blame is largely attributable to the devastating and long enduring public distrust created by the shocking and infamous Nixon-Agnew-Watergate-Vietnam wars and by additional public distrust created locally by the baseless charges perpetrated by the re-call organization, recently.

Here we are, historically, in the second year of our nation's third century and we have more election day truants than ever before. You non-voters must know that democracy and freedom are giving you a free piggy-back ride. Get off of our backs and stand on your own feet; you've goofed off long enough. Lask you, non-registered free loaders, to show some class for the June election by shaping up in time! — register to vote by May 8th, study the issues and vote like the first class citizens you could be. To you registered non-voters, don't remain drop-outs. I implore you to keep the faith and return to the polls in June.

Sincerely,

DARIO MENIKETTI

Dear Sir:

On behalf of myself and the members of the Albany Police Department, I would like to express my thanks to the citizens of Albany for the vote of approval cast in my behalf for the position of Chief of Police in the April 11 city election.

We feel this is a voice of approval in the performance of the Police Department and we will continue in our efforts to provide the highest quality of police service to the citizens of Albany.

Sincerely,
JAMES R. SIMMONS
Chief of Police

Editor:

Dear Sir:

"Money is something to be thrown from the rear platform of moving trains." This was the philosophy of the late Gene Fowler and this view is shared by the majority of California State representatives and all school boards.

For far too long these groups have had their collective snouts in the feed-troughs at the expense of the hard pressed taxpayers. In spite of anguished cries of disaster from Sacramento to the Jarvis/Gann Initiative passes and this particular source of revenue is drastically reduced, other sources can and will be found — Observe how readily they find the wherewithal to vote themselves generous raises and bountiful pensions.

There might even be some welcome "fringe benefits" — with less money to squander, these "big spenders" might be forced to practice economy (that dirtiest of words to politicians) but what millions of us have had to practice for years through necessity.

I have but faint hope this letter will "make the Mail Bag," knowing the paper's views on this matter, but I am nevertheless moved to write, knowing how many others in our fair city share these views.

Editor:

Dear Sir:

Please forgive me for your taking valuable time. I am a teacher of a high school in Seoul, the Capital of the Republic of Korea. I am one of the leaders of the Student Language Club in Seoul, which consist of English teachers and student members.

Most of the students here are very eager to find pen pals in your country. So I am writing this in the hope that you can help us get in touch with young people in your country. It will help our students to brush up their English.

I think this kind of direct communication between friends of similar ages will help both to learn each other's country.

I am sure each of the students can be a faithful friend, and they may correspond with any boy or girl regardless of age and sex. I hope you can publish my address in your kind cooperation.

Sincerely yours,

BYUN YOUNGSUN

Dear Sir:

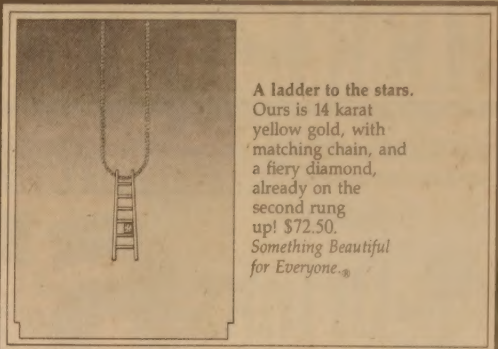

Ex governor Pat Brown invokes the threat of communism into the Jarvis-Gann controversy, claiming the reds are in favor of the bill.

If true, it would be contrary to everything I have learned about the butchers in years of study. Communism is total government. Jarvis would cut government drastically. The two are as incompatible as Brown and the truth.

Record Sierra snows posing flood threat

SACRAMENTO — The third heaviest snowpack in 50 years could cause spring floods in the San Joaquin Valley, the Department of Water Resources warned today.

If warm temperatures speed the melting of mountain snow in the southern Sierra, valley streams could face severe problems, according to the Department's April report on water conditions in California.

Statewide, a wet March was the fourth consecutive month of above-average precipitation, with seasonal totals above 400 percent of average for the south coastal basins, and at 200 percent in the San Joaquin and 125 percent in the Sacramento Valley.

Efforts are already under way to dispose of excess runoff in the San Joaquin Valley, where March runoff was 1.7 million acre-feet, 235 percent of average.

In the normally wetter Sacramento Valley, runoff for March was 4.4 million acre-feet, or 181 percent of average. Warm weather melted some snow at lower elevations, but storms brought in even more new snow to increase the remaining snowpack.

In March, runoff was 175 percent of average statewide, ranging from 136 percent on the north coast to a phenomenal 632 percent on the south coast where several storms hit.

The predicted snowmelt runoff for April through July ranges from 286 percent of average on the Kern River — second greatest in 50 years of record — to about average for the Pit River in northeast California.

The DWR report noted that storage in California reservoirs has increased by 10.3 million acre-feet (MAF) since April 1, 1977 in the heart of the drought. Reservoir storage now is 12.6 MAF in the Sacramento basin, 5.6 MAF in the San Joaquin and Tulare Lake basins, 1.5 MAF in the north coast, 1.36 MAF in the San Francisco Bay and central coastal areas.
